

Washington, D.C. - An explosion at a hazardous materials storage facility in Apex Thursday night has caused a fire and release of potentially hazardous gases in the area. Residents in the affected communities have been evacuated.

For information about the fire and resulting evacuations and closings, please call the Wake County Emergency Operations Center at (919) 856-7044. If you are experiencing an emergency, dial 911.